Activities—16

During his four years at Howe, a student can find many things in which to get involved. As a freshman, he has many clubs and activities open to him that will increase his knowledge of the world he will soon be entering. As a sophomore or junior, the student continues to involve himself in his high school world. But as a senior, the student must look from the high school to the world around him and begin to prepare himself for his entrance into this new world.

Howe Students Participate in Variety of Activities

While a school's main function is that of educating the students, providing a well-rounded selection of activities is also important. Everyone can find something to interest him at Howe.

Activities are an excellent way to get to know people and to create a better understanding among the people participating. Whether the student is interested in music, art, science or just plain fun, there is a club for him, with members who are interested in the same things as he.

Bringing honor to the school and to the individual are the advantages of some activities. Students who offer service to Howe through extra-curricular activities are honored in ceremonies at the end of the year.

Participation in Team Sports Encourages Spirit

Playing on an athletic team can mean many things to a team member. The thrill of seeing his team win, the disappointment of a lost match, the camaraderie of the buses and locker rooms: these are the memories of a student who participates on one of Howe's teams. The honor of playing on a team, of being one of the chosen few, is indeed a great honor. By becoming involved on a team, the student can develop character and mature into a responsible adult.

Outstanding Faculty Aids Students' Learning Skills

One thing that is shared by all Howeites is the fact that they are learning. For some it is a task, for some it is merely something to do and for others it is a valuable experience.

Students excelling in the academics at Howe have their own special honors. The National Honor Society, the French and Spanish National Honor Societies and the Quill and Scroll are some clubs recognizing those who have shown outstanding abilities.

Underclassmen Are Vital Asset to Activity at Howe

Cheering at a football game and writing research papers are some of the things one can find underclassmen busy doing. While they are looking forward to their senior year, these pupils form a necessary and exciting addition to the student body.

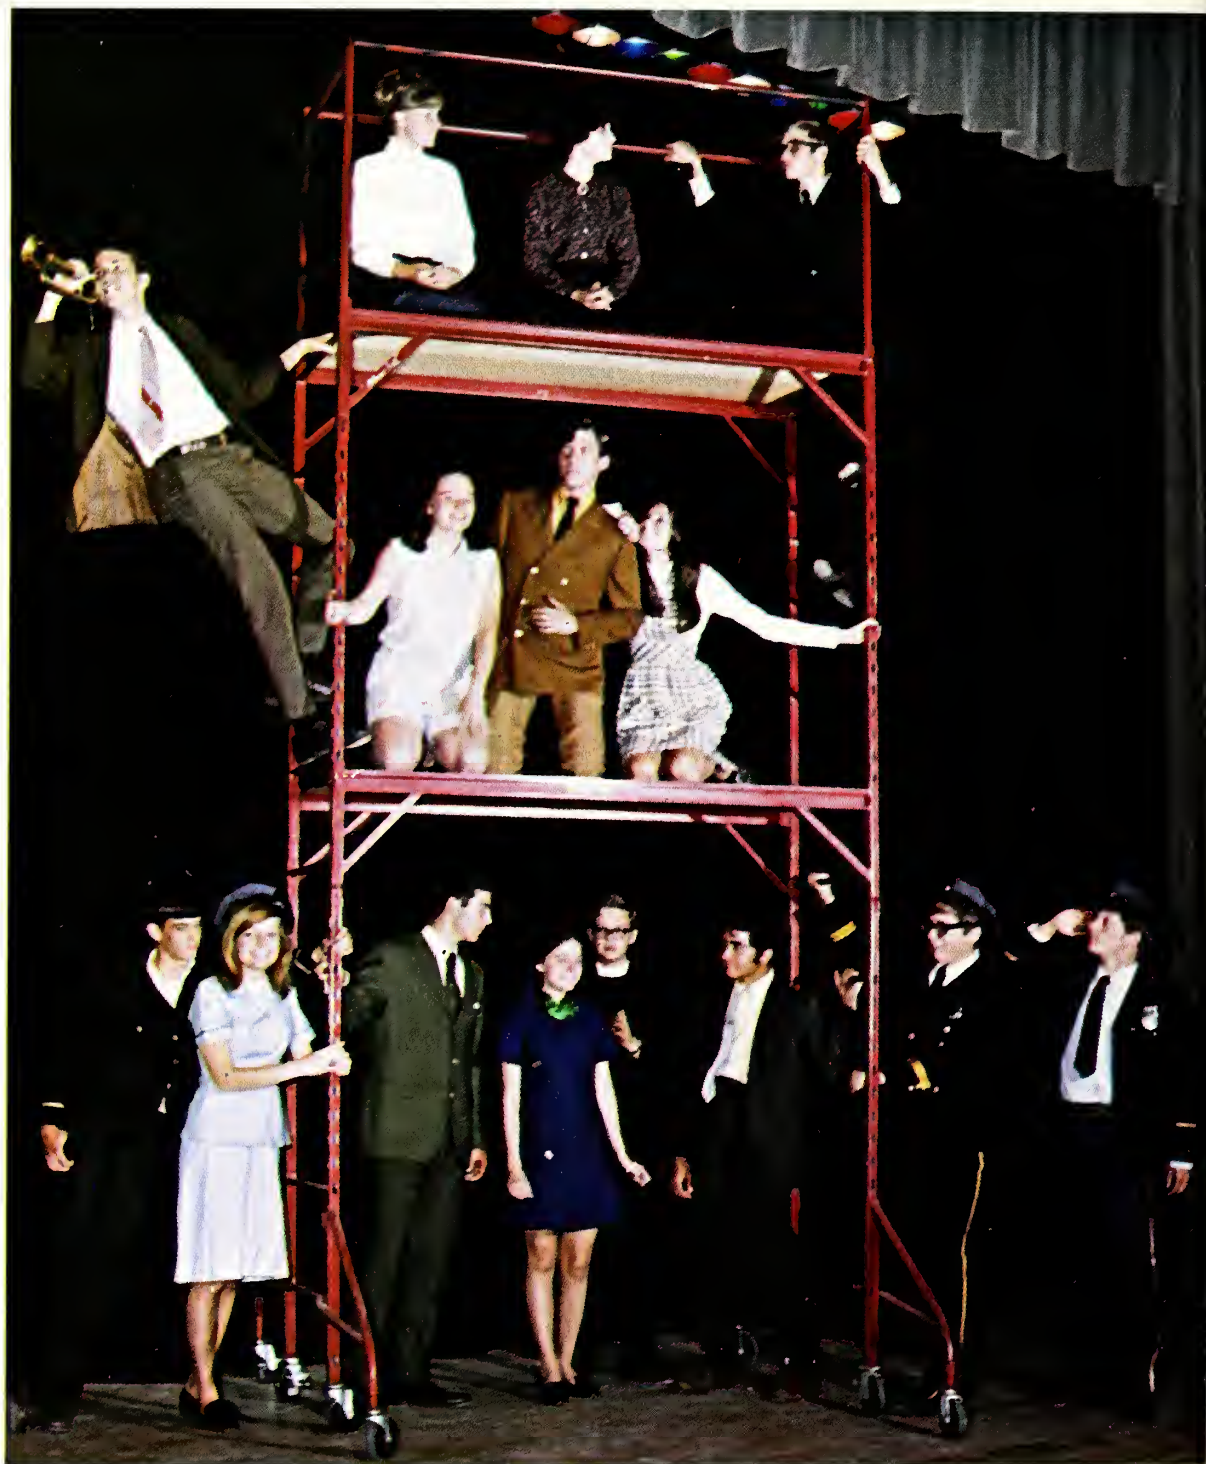

The opportunities to meet new people and to be exposed to new ideas are extensive. Unique approaches in academics, athletics and activities make Howe a welcome sight for its underclassmen.

Seniors Remember Early Days as Lost Freshmen

Senior year is a very important year for many reasons. This is the year in which the student will make an important decision about his future. Whether this decision involves college, work, or marriage, the student must prepare for the future by talking with qualified adults. Most memories of high school are not left behind with graduation. Over 450 seniors graduate from Howe each year. Most of them never return.

Students Become Involved, Concerned with Daily Life

Various activities are offered by Howe to its students. The student can find friends interested in subjects ranging from stage productions to medical careers. Students interested in athletics can try out for varsity teams and play in intramurals. Honor students in various subjects can join honorary societies and tutor other students. By becoming involved with other friends and activities, the student can mature into a well-rounded adult. The monotony of daily life establishes a routine missed in later life.

In order to keep in touch with the world, the student must become involved in the many things happening around him. Joining school clubs, helping in productions, playing on teams: these are all ways to get involved in Howe's activities. Various honorary organizations are achieved by only a select few, but most clubs are open to all. The joy of being crowned Homecoming Queen is known to only a few people, but many can appreciate a winning team.

Homecomings, Jamboree See Crowning of Joyous Queens

Queens are always a part of the Football season. At the annual Football Jamboree held before the school year, sophomore Carol Mount, escorted by coach Richard McLeish, reigned as queen.

During the half-time of the Howe-Northwest game, junior Jackie Dych, was chosen as Football Homecoming Queen. Jackie was crowned by Principal Thomas Stirling as Student Council President Richard Wood presented the new queen with the traditional necklace.

Senior Becky Wood was chosen Basketball Homecoming Queen for the 1970 season. Becky, chosen from eight candidates, was crowned during the half-time of the Howe-Washington game held on February 6, 1970. The Hornet Honeys preceded the crowning ceremony dancing to "Aquarius". 1969 Basketball Homecoming Queen Denise Page presented the crown and the bouquet of red roses to the new queen as Dick Wood gave Becky the traditional golden Basketball necklace.

Patty, Norman, and Randy

Reign over Festive Dances

Mardi Gras was the theme of last year's HILLTOPPER sponsored Turn-About Twirl. Tables were decorated with large flowers and helium-filled balloons floated on the ceiling. Senior Randy Morgan, escorted by Donna Toumey, was crowned Mr. Topper at the intermission. This girls-choice dance was, as usual, well-attended.

Howe's social season opened with the annual Brown and Gold dance. Music by the Rick Dawson Band created an atmosphere of Moonlight Magic amid decorations of blue and silver.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Norman McClain as Brown Boy and Patty Danner as Golden Girl.

The Rick Dawson Sextet adds a touch of romance to the "Brown and Gold."

Military, Sweetheart Dances

Add to February's Sparkle

Colors of pink, red, and white complimented the traditional hearts and cupids of the annual Tower Sweetheart Ball held in the cafeteria February 7, 1970. Seniors Jane Zander and Chris Russell were crowned King and Queen of Hearts after their names were drawn from the couples attending. The Rick Dawson Sextet provided music.

George Washington—the Father of Our Country—was the theme of Howe's 1969 Military Ball held on February 22. Meredith Craig was chosen to reign as queen of the formal dance. Hoping for the crown were ROTC sponsors, Meredith Craig, Patti Dulin, Marilyn Hurt, Terri Kertes, Terri Poynter, Donna Reifes, and Dana Smith.

GAA, Student Council Hold Lively Dances for Hornets

Senior Barton Combs asks Santa Claus for a "special present" as other students wait in line for their requests.

Senior Bruce Newton demonstrates the fundamentals of modern dancing to principal Thomas Stirling at the Winter Wonderland.

On October 17, the first shoe hop of the year was held. The dance, sponsored by the Student Council, began after the football homecoming game against Northwest. Highlighting the dance was Norman McClain's "choo-choo train" winding its way around the cafeteria.

Howe's Christmas dance, the Winter Wonderland, was held December 17 in the cafeteria. Senior Craig Reed was crowned Winter Wonderland King by GAA president, Janet Dunn. The dance sponsored jointly by GAA and the Student Council also featured an appearance by Santa Claus.

Freshman Elaine Dunn and DeeAnn Trulock dance at the Winter Wonderland Dance held on December 17 in the cafeteria.

SEASONS

Howe senior Jim Downing, a member of the Jim Sander's band, keeps the beat on his drums while enjoying himself at the same time at the Winter Wonderland Dance.

Margaret Martin gets her first taste of lip-stick in her fourth grade interpretation.

Pleasant Run Varieties Add 'Variety' to Howe Originality

Acting as Master and Mistress of Ceremonies, Norman McClain and Laura Reasoner 'pun' the time away between PRV acts.

Pleasant Run Varieties revealed many original acts done by talented Howeites. Everything from piano solos to comedy skits as executed with much skill.

One comedy skit, Grades 1-12, served as the theme of the event. Another comical skit was John Easterday's oration "If Mother Goose Met Spiro Agnew". On the serious side, Maty Lau performed a ballet to "Love Theme From Romeo and Juliet" and a musical duet by Steve Morgan and Lenny Farmer. The Boys' and Girls' Octets, the Madrigals and the Girls Gym Team also displayed their talents. Laura Reasoner and Norman McClain served as Mistress and Master of ceremonies.

John Easterday's comical editorial about the television censor stole the show.

Rock bands are always a part of the annual Pleasant Run Varieties. Paul Thomas, Steve Duhamel, and Rex Thomas, members of the Revival, sang 'Lode'.

Miki Dobbs, Eileen King, Syndie Cherry, and Denise Page sing about "the good-lookin' and refined man of distinction", the "Big Spender", Norman McClain.

Mistress of Ceremonies Laura Reasoner hurriedly gets ready back stage for the Saturday evening performance.

King Pellinore, played by Norman McClain, shows Mordred, played by Byron Spice, the proper way to dust and keep his armor clean. Mordred objects to this by telling Pellinore of Lancelot's and Guenevere betrayal of their beloved King Arthur.

King Arthur and Queen Guenevere attempt to set up civil courts and new orders of chivalry in medieval England.

Howe's Knights and Ladies

Live in Realms of 'Camelot'

"Camelot", a musical about King Arthur and his Round Table, was presented by the Hornet Music Department on April 16, 17, and 18. Gary Conway as Arthur, Denise Page as Guenevere, and Steve Applegate as Lancelot formed the "eternal triangle" of love in this award-winning musical.

Supporting roles were played by Byron Spice, Margaret Martin, Ralph Merkle, Norman McClain, and Sherry Thomas.

and Sherry Thomas.

Faculty directors, Miss Rhoda Kittleson and Mr. Frank Watkins and director of productions, Mr. Bruce Beck worked hard to make the musical a success while Mr. Richard Hammond, Mr. Robert Beckley and Mr. William Cunningham worked behind the scenes. Hard work made it an enjoyable time.

Faculty directors Miss Kittelson, Mr. Beck, Mr. Cunningham, Miss Brown, and Mr. Watkins discuss plans for the musical.

"Camelot Cast"

King Arthur	Gary Conway
Guenevere	Denise Page
Lancelot	Steve Applegate
Mordred	Byron Spice
Merlyn	Ralph Merkle
Morgan Le Fey	Margaret Martin
King Pellinore	Norman McClain
Student Directors	Helen Hudson and Laura Reasoner

Lancelot and Guenevere, portrayed by Steve Applegate and Denise Page, express their secret admiration for each other.

Morgan Le Fey, played by Margaret Martin, tempts King Arthur with visions of power and wealth as Mordred, played by Byron Spice, looks on and agrees.

Mark Miller, Federalist candidate, was elected governor of the State of Howe in the annual mock election. The hard work and imaginative campaigning of both Mark Miller and Rex Barrett, Nationalist candidate for governor, made this year's election an exciting and very close one.

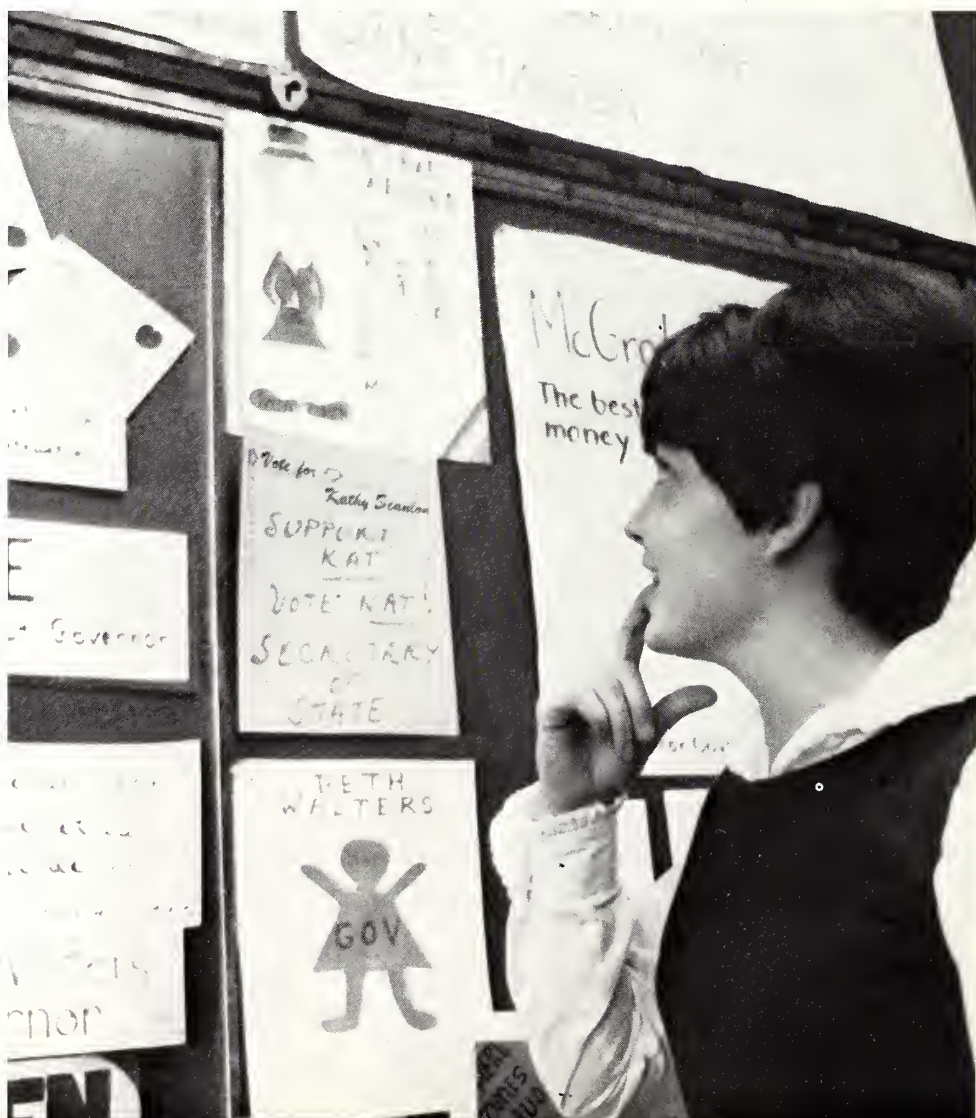

The mock election was set up in 1940 by the Howe social studies department to give students a chance to learn the ways our government operates. Each social studies class is a separate city; the classes of one teacher comprise a county; and all classes are considered as the State of Howe. All students enrolled in a social studies course are eligible to vote.

Energetic Staff Push for All-American Yearbook

Writing copy, planning layouts, cropping pictures, and spending Saturday morning's at school to meet deadlines are the various duties of the HILLTOPPER staff. The staff is chosen each spring, and a frenzied Turnabout dance is put together as the first duty of the newly elected yearbook staff.

Last summer, Laura Reasoner, editor, Carol Higginbotham, associate editor, and Terry Poynter, production manager, attended the Michigan State workshop to improve their yearbook techniques and skills. Two weeks were spent learning yearbook editorship and layout plans.

The staff also sponsored the annual "Brown and Gold." Golden girl, Junior Patty Danner, and Brown boy, Senior Norman McClain, reigned over the "Moonlight Magic" affair.

Tower, News Bureau Tell Pupils of School Events

Twenty-nine students were responsible for the production of the Howe Tower.

Getting information, writing stories, proof-reading copy, planning pages and distributing papers were jobs performed by the staffs involved.

As in the past, this year's paper presented some editorial comments, reported current activities and added a bit of humor to the scholastic atmosphere.

The News Bureau, a special section of the Tower, was responsible for sending out stories and pictures of school activities to both city and community newspapers.

Editor-in-chief, Phil Coffin, was ably assisted by Denise Hayes, managing editor and by each of the page editors including News Bureau chief, Barbara Pash. The Howe Tower also welcomed a new sponsor this year, Mr. William Bolander, a B.S.U. graduate.

NHS, Literary Groups Induct Upperclassmen

In the spring of each year new members are inducted into Howe's chapter of the National Honor Society. This year senior Philip Coffin was elected president, Janet Dunn, vice-president and Margaret Neal, secretary. To be eligible for this academic honorary the student must be in the upper ten percent of his junior class and the upper fifteen percent of his senior class. He must also maintain a 6.0 average.

Each May the editors of Howe's publication's become members of the honorary society of Quill and Scroll. New members must be in the upper third of their class and be recommended by the sponsoring teacher.

Aspiring Hornet journalists had an opportunity to express themselves in Howe's literary magazine, Pen Points. Under the direction of Mr. Bolander the bi-annual publication contained prose and poetry.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Susan Penn, French Honor Society members experienced the cultural aspects of France when they attended the presentation of a French play and had dinner at the French restaurant, Chez Jean.

Members of the Domingo Faustino Sarmiento chapter of the Spanish Honor Society celebrated Pan-American Day by inviting Spanish-speaking guests to lecture their society. Mrs. Mary Thumma sponsored the club's activities.

Latin club members, who also belong to the Junior Classical League, conducted a slave sale and a Roman banquet. Sponsoring the club was Mrs. Vesta Cohee.

Organizing and directing Latin Club activities are officers Ralph Kubiak, Mark Benson, Brian Houppert, and Laura Reasoner.

Senior Terri Cross displays souvenirs from her summer's study in Mexico.

Being described as a perfect mate, Karl Zander humbly awaits his sale as a slave.

Orchestra Assumes Many Roles During School

Under the direction of Mr. Beckley, the Howe Orchestra performs at many school events each year as well as for outside organizations. They also spend many weeks in preparation for the annual musical production and for the Band and Orchestra Concert which takes place each spring. The orchestra participates in the Christmas Program and provides music for both the Senior and the Revelers' plays. They play for the P.T.A. and each year present a Pop Concert on the Eastgate Mall. This group's excellence adds to the fine quality of the Howe Music Department.

A dedicated violinist, senior Beth Coughlen practices daily with the Orchestra and also participates in all Orchestra performances.

Beth Walters, senior member of the Orchestra, concentrates on learning her music during a daily practice period.

Band and Hornet Honeys

Show Talent and Precision

Senior Denise Hayes demonstrates the skill that warrants her first chair flutist.

Entertainment at home games, assisting pep sessions, marching in parades, and providing a military atmosphere at the Federal Inspection are the Band and Hornet Honeys chief duty during the year. Endless hours of practicing and perfecting music is the major objectives of the band; the drill team concentrates on rehearsing new routines and perfecting marching skills.

The band is amply directed by Mr. Louis McEnderfer. However, he is assisted during the marching season by drum major, Byron Spice, who struts proudly in front of the Band and drill team.

The drill team is directed by Mrs. Ruth Mercer. She is assisted by Denise Page, captain, Sally Jensen and Syndie Cherry, co-captains, Martha Graves, Terri Jump, Becky Clingerman, Margaret Martin, Carol Higginbotham, and Sandy Hunt, Squad leaders. The band and drill team add color and spirit to many hornet functions.

Mr. McEnderfer conducts the "Star-Spangled Banner" for pre-game ceremonies.

Mr. Frank Watkins, Music Department head, also finds time to direct the Choir.

Striving for More Variety Is the Ensemble and Choir

Members of Howe's largest vocal group, the Concert Choir, are selected from the Chorus and Choralaire classes. The choir meets each day during the first period. They are under the professional direction of Mr. Frank Watkins, head of the Music Department. School functions during the year, musical productions, and concerts enable the students to present their combined talents to the general public.

Both boys' and girls' voices blend harmoniously together from individual ensembles. The ensembles perform under the direction of Mr. Frank Watkins and Mr. Thomas Lewis.

Talented Vocalists Perform For Howe and Community

Members of the Howe Madrigals are a specially selected group of vocalists chosen by audition from those enrolled in music classes. Annually performing in the PRV and other school functions, the Madrigals entertain with melodic and romantic Olde English ballads.

Mr. Robert Bramblett conducts the Madrigals during their practice and performances. This is Mr. Bramblett's sixth year as sponsor of the Madrigal group.

In 1951, Mr. Frank Watkins, Music Department head, organized the Concert Club. This all-girl group of vocalists have since then performed in the All-City Festival, the Spring Vocal Festivals and at churches in the community.

Mark Reasoner and Dave Nice hammer nails into a door frame for the Senior play.

Membership to Footlight Revelers is open to any one interested in dramatics. After earning 10 points for contributing 100 hours on stage, Revelers are eligible for membership in Thespians. This year Revelers-Thespians worked on two new projects. They built a stage in room 69 and had an evening performance in December, consisting of 3 one act plays. Mrs. Baker, sponsor of Revelers-Thespians, assists in the directing and writing of the plays.

In addition, the stage crew, sponsored by Mr. Beck, builds scenery for the Senior play, Christmas plays, and the annual musical held in the spring. Extra details require time spent after school and on Saturdays.

Robert Eckert and Kenneth Truex portray a scene from "Jiminy Glick".

Also busy on the Senior play construction are Gregg Maddox and Gary Rash.

Student Council Sparks Loyalty, Unity at Howe

Despite student unrest and revolt noted in some schools across the nation, the Howe Student Council, under the direction of President Dick Wood, this year rallied the Hornet student body into a loyal, compact unit. Dick sparked the spirit of seniors with skits and announcements during homeroom and periodically appealed to all students for support of Council projects and ideas.

Officers elected in the fall included Ralph Merkle, vice-president; Bruce Dobson, treasurer; and Betty Rennard, secretary.

Members of Howe's Student Council listen intently as Mr. Thomas Stirling prepares to initiate the newly elected officers during the Student Council-Publications Assembly.

Members of the City Student Council are Concetta Raimondi, Cheryl Mee, Nancy Collins and Sue Evans. The City Student Council is made up of Student Council members from city high schools.

Members of the Queen's Committee sort and count ballots for the Homecoming crowning.

Mr. Samuel Kelly, Athletic Director, helps direct cars out of the student parking lot after a pep rally and a motorcade to Arlington High School sponsored by the Student Council.

Psychology teacher, Mr. Sutton, presents a nonsense poem at a Council pep assembly.

Apart from her many duties as the Dean of Girls, Mrs. Patricia Alexander is also the co-sponsor of the Student Council with Vice-Principal Mr. Charles Ruschhaupt.

Carpet for Auditorium

Student Council's Goal

Purchase and installation of carpeting for the auditorium was the primary goal of the Student Council this year. Many hours were spent selecting the floor-covering that would be both beautiful and serviceable.

Also instigated by the Council was the distribution of booster ribbons during football season and booster pins during the basketball season. The Council made available the pom-poms for the Cheer-Block. Shoe-hops, sockhops and the Senior-Faculty game were principle money makers for the organization. The Student Council Talent Review and a clean-up campaign to save Brown's Hill were Council activities also.

Student Council President, Dick Wood, and Vice-President Ralph Merkle listen pensively to the ideas of Council officers and representatives at an informal meeting.

'Y'-sponsored Clubs Serve Self, School, Community

David Weintraut, Herbert Sprankle, Don Koss, and Bil Totten help Sponsor Mr. Robert Hesong arrange for a guest speaker, Mr. Mark Sutton, to speak to Hi-Y about sportsmanship.

Affiliated with the national Y.M.C.A. movement, Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs participated in projects which benefited the school and its community. Hi-Y, a club open to all Howe boys, held a "sand-in" during which it restored damaged desk tops. Tri-Hi-Y, a group of upperclass girls, treated underprivileged children to a Christmas Party. Guest speakers highlighted many regular meetings: a Viet Nam veteran spoke to Hi-Y members while the art of judo was demonstrated for Tri-Hi-Y members.

Sponsored by Mr. Robert Hesong and Miss Mary Weakly, both clubs elected delegates to send to the Model U.N. convention where the U.N. was studied.

Quiz, Speech, Debate Teams

Improve, Demonstrate Skills

Sponsor Mr. Steven Briggs reads a paper concerning the correct procedures used in public speaking to NFL members.

National Forensic League, an honorary organization sponsored by Mr. Steven Briggs, accepted only those speech and debate team members who had accumulated twenty-five honor points acquired in competition with other high schools. Like the speech team, the debate team took part in several meets and debated the topic, "Resolved: that Congress should prevent unilateral intervention in foreign countries."

Richard Wood, captain, Phil Coffin, Diane Williams, and Mark Reasoner comprised this year's Quiz Team sponsored by Mr. Ronald Finkbiner. After winning two matches on "High School Bowl," the Hornets competed on "Exercise in Knowledge."

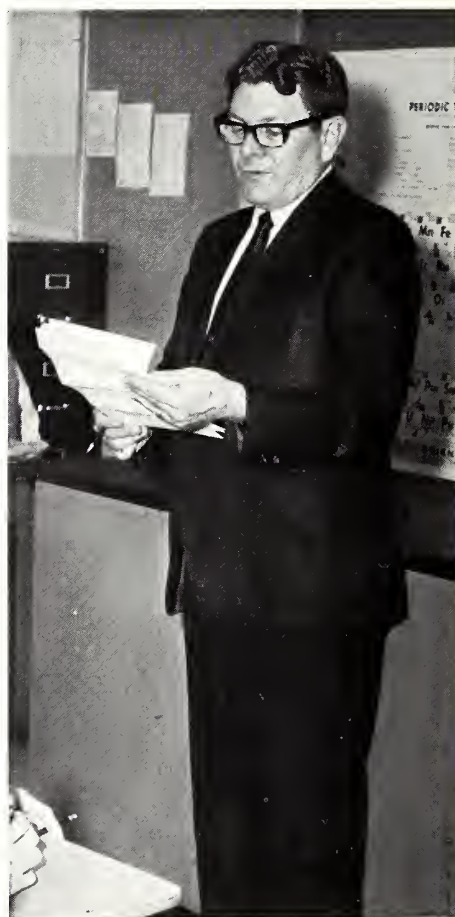

At the WFBM studios, Mr. Thomas Stirling and Mr. Ron Finkbiner anxiously await the announcement of the Quiz Team's final score.

In her first year of sponsoring Medical Careers Club, Mrs. Norma Rauch had a very successful year. Among their many projects included hospital tours, seeing films, and having guest speakers. They also participated in the Teen Toy Shop which allowed patients at Central State Hospital to select gifts for their families.

During several meetings, Home Ec Club members mended football players' jerseys. Members also planned many interesting activities; they presented a Christmas party and a fashion show, and also listened to guest speakers on beauty, fashion, and food. Different furniture styles were studied on a tour arranged by St. Margaret's Guild. Also on their agenda was a series of recipe-swaps to broaden their knowledge in the kitchen.

Mergie Thompson explains the various uses of alcohol to Joy Babb and Claudette Green.

Many club meetings are devoted to the discussion of the duties of the people in the medical profession. Here, Mrs. Norma Rauch demonstrates one of the many duties of a nurse by checking Bethany Berger's throat to insure her good health.

Service Organizations Aid in Various School Duties

Student Librarians are the biggest service organization at Howe. Pupils interested in gaining one-half credit and valuable library experience meet once every day to repair books, replace them in their proper stacks, trace lost books, and prepare weekly displays in the showcase opposite the library.

Several students devote one period a day to assist teachers as Office Messengers. Their various duties include to deliver notes to students and teachers to type and sort mail, and other various detailed jobs. Receiving aid from the helpers were the deans, school nurse, department heads, and the bookstore manager.

Business Managers, under the direction of Mr. David Stahly, are one of the most important organizations at Howe. Their duties include selling tickets and providing ushers and ticket-takers at plays and performances throughout the year to insure a successful program.

President Bud Summit gives Ralph McClure, treasurer, money collected from the sale of 400 Club memberships.

Athletically minded fathers of Howe students comprise the Men's 400 Club. No funds are allocated to athletics; consequently, the Men's 400 Club have chosen this as their goal.

The club's president, Mr. Bud Summit, directs the setting up of a budget by obtaining funds from selling memberships in the 400 Club and selling refreshments at basketball games. All funds are given to the school in the form of awards, trophies, and other athletic necessities that arise. Last year they donated a $2,000 washer and dryer to the athletic department and recently added a roster board to the basketball team. Even though athletics are the club's primary interests, they have no restrictions.

P.T.A. strives diligently to become closely related to the teachers at Howe. Mrs. Fawver and Mrs. Lau are assisting Mr. Rex Anderson at the annual Christmas tea.

Mrs. Louis Saba, president of the P.T.A., has spent many hours for the betterment of Howe. Here she is shown, on the right, selling a bag of pecans to Mrs. McClure.

As president, Mrs. Louis Saba led the active Parent Teachers Association through a busy year.

For fund raising projects the P.T.A. operated the concession stand at the football games and sold cushions to the spectators. Active members sold over 360 pounds of pecans during the Christmas season.

These funds were allocated for the purchase of new choir robes, field trips, and the drill team. They also provided refreshments for P.T.A. meetings and gave the annual Christmas tea for Howe's faculty and administration.

P.T.A. members published and mailed the "Know Howe" to the parents of all Howe students.

Mrs. Robert Perkins arranges the cookie plates at the yearly P.T.A. teacher tea.

Athletics at Howe High School comprise the majority of after-school activities for boys and girls. By working with other people and learning to "give and take," the student can start to mature and begin his growing-up process.

A city-championship football team, a regional championship in baseball, and a sectional championship in tennis made the 1969-1970 athletic season an exciting one for the students, the parents, and the backers on Howe teams.

Letterman John Lyons views the halftime show as he helps hold the ropes.

Enthusiasm at Many Hornet Athletic Events

Members of the Letterman Club donate their time and help as program distributors, ticket takers and as sideline officials. The athletes also act as guides for guests at athletic events, sweep the floor and hold the ropes at half-time during basketball season. The Lettermen boast white sweaters sporting an eight-inch gold letter. At the end of each season coaches and a group of Lettermen meet to determine the award winners.

Under the direction of Senior Rick Dawson, The Howe Pep Band helped lend a spirit of enthusiasm at basketball games and is also a valuable asset to the Hornet Honeys as it accompanies them during their half-time shows. The Pep Band also adds the extra rhythm to the chants and spirit songs at games and assemblies.

Senior Rick Dawson, an accomplished trumpet player and Pep Band conductor, leads the band in a rousing spirit song during a break at an exciting basketball game.

Junior Paul Thomas receives admiring glances from spectators as he gives a drum solo during a basketball game. Paul, along with several other musicians comprise the Howe Pep Band.

Holding ropes at basketball games is one of the duties of the Letterman's Club members.

Freshman cheerleading is composed of six freshman girls who lead the chants of praise for the freshman athletic teams.

Girls who lead the cheers at all reserve activities comprise the reserve cheerleading squad. The reserves, along with the varsity squad, won the spirit stick at cheerleading camp last summer.

Varsity cheerleaders have proven themselves very competent this year. At the Vincennes Cheerleading Camp last summer, they won five blue ribbons, a plaque for being chosen the most skillful, and the coveted trophy for the most outstanding squad. Betty Rennard also received individual recognition by being chosen Miss Athletic.

Decorating buses, cheering at varsity football, basketball, and wrestling encounters, and making spirit signs are the various duties of this talented squad.

Gym Team Attempts to Set New Records

An energetic female is kept more than busy at Howe by the activities of the Gym Team and Girls Athletic Association. Anyone wishing to further their physical being or enjoy competing with other people can become a member of the Girls Athletic Association. The girls' athletic programs at Howe are sponsored by Miss Jan Brown.

Howe's Gym Team, however, requires not only the desire to compete but also the ability and talent to perform well in gymnastics. The members of the team is comprised of sophomores, juniors, and seniors; the latter being the most prominent. The team requires much physical exertion and endless hours of hard practice.

City Champs! Hornets Experience First

Lenny Thornburg tries to evade an opposing player in an attempt to make a touchdown as Gary Hubbard prepares to block for him in a season opener with Tech.

While earning their second City Championship in three years, Howe's Hornets also had an undefeated record for the first time in the history of the school. Out of ten season games, the Hornets won every game including a mud-slinging battle against the Washington Continentals at the close of the season. Tough games against such teams as Marshall, Broad Ripple, and Arlington showed the expert playing ability of the varsity football team this year.

Leading the Hornets to their successful season were All-City, All-State linebacker Tom Marendt; and All-City, All-State end Craig Reinhardt. Other players who made the All-City team were Willie Perry, Bruce Dobson, Bryan Spear, and Kevin Farrell.

Varsity Team in Its Most Successful Year

All-State linebacker Tom Marendt earned the top spot in scoring in the city. He made a total of 15 touchdowns and 2 extra points. He also led the team in making 7 pass interceptions. His total number of tackles, 110, was the best of the team. Tom also recovered 5 fumbles during seasonal play.

In most divisions Tom Marendt was the top man, but not far behind was Willie Perry. He made a total of 9 touchdowns and 10 extra points. The Hornets best quarterback was Bryan Spear. He threw a total of 100 passes of which 51 were completed. Spear was also the leading punter. Out of 28 punts he had an average of 32.0 yards per punt attempt.

As a team Howe had a total of 122 first downs to 87 made by the opposition. In yards rushing the Hornets total was 1919.

Larry Scharbrough displays momentum in evading many tacklers as other players help to keep the area clear of opposing team members by blocking for him.

Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Dave Stewart, the JV football team concluded a winning season with a 7—3 record, counting games forfeited. The most outstanding aspect of this team is their unyielding defense that was capable of holding other teams at a complete stand still. The members of this team will soon be responsible for future varsity teams.

As a Broad Ripple ball carrier tries to advance his team's position, Hornet defenders swarm across the line and stop him for a costly loss of yardage.

This was the first year of coaching football for Mr. James Arvin and Mr. Richard Harpold, and they made it a good one. The Frosh not only ended a Successful 7—3 season, but they kept four of those teams, Marshall, Broad Ripple, Northwest, and Crispus Attucks, from even scoring at all.

Even though Walter Wren missed most of this year's football season, he was, by far, the team's leading scorer. The combination of speed and a strong defense made the Frosh a formidable team.

Though our runner didn't make a score, it took two enemy defenders to stop him.

Varsity Team Ends 5—2 Dual Meet Season

Howe's 1969 cross country teams, under the guidance of Coach Billy Wood, finished a very successful season. The varsity team completed its year with a 5—2 record while the reserve and freshman teams were undefeated.

Success of the cross country teams could be attributed to the summer practice sessions and the desire to win, and augmented by hard work.

Coach Wood announced sophomore Greg Goodwin the "Most Valuable Runner" and senior Randy Hutchinson as "Honorary Captain".

Paul Gerzon was city champ with a time of 7:58; Bob Gray placed second in a time of 7:59. Gerzon and Gray were also regular members of the varsity. This year's freshman team was undoubtedly the best that Howe has ever held with as many as five of its members serving on the varsity team.

Our frosh placed first in the Bloomington Invitational of 48 teams, the Howe Invitational of 8 teams, the Shortridge Invitational against 18 teams, and the City Championship amid 16 teams. They were second at Northwest.

Howe's Hornets took many teams by surprise and closed the regular season with an impressive record of 15 wins and only 5 losses before Sectional play began. Beginning the season with a nine game winning streak, before losing to a tough Southport team, the Hornets proved to be a threat to many excellent teams in the city and state.

During the semester break, the Hornets reached the final game of the Tech division of the City Tourney by defeating Washington 73—61. In the final game they lost to Tech by a five point margin.

Throughout the season, Howe has had three players become a part of the top scorers of the city. These were Tom Marendt, Craig Reinhardt, and Tracy Ellis. Later in the season another Hornet, Bruce Dobson, became a part of these selected few in the city.

With hardly an effort, Craig Reinhardt out-jumps an opposing player for the ball.

Senior Bruce Dobson jumped high over the heads of the other players to retrieve the ball. The exceptional height of the team aids in many victories.

Co-captains Tom Boyd and Dave Rodgers led the team to many victories. Although being the second highest scorer, Dan Brown was noted as the best shot because he hit 50% of his attempts for 237 points. The top scorer was Kevin Culley with 239, just 2 more points than Dan. Mr. Stewart coached the JV's for his 3rd year.

Sparked by players such as Danny Brown, the Hornet's best shot; and Bob Harton, top rebounder; Howe's reserve team enjoyed another winning season. The junior varsity had a season record of 15 wins and 6 losses. Although the team lacked the size they would like to have, they made up for it in their determination to win.

Freshmen Battle Through Tough Season

Displaying a fairly neutral season, this year's freshmen had a record of 7 wins and 10 losses. There were many excellent players who helped the team during the overall season. Leading the team in the scoring division was Mark Lauer, who had a total of 176 points for an average of 10.3. The second highest scorer was Mike Rusk who had a season total of 153 points. Others who aided in this division were Mark Miller and Walter Wren with 68 points. The team also had many good guards that play an important part of the team. These guards were Karl Schiefer, Bill Lessaris, and Greg Anderson. These players will aid in future basketball Howe.

Coach Mitchell commented, "They are a fine group to work with and did a good job this year."

Fred Covert took third, and Jack Proctor finished fourth. Terry Cala came on strong at the end of the year and wrestled some varsity. # Junior Varsity Enjoys Triumphant Season

Outdoor track and field events come into full swing as spring rolls round once again. Practice for track begins several months in advance, with Howe boys competing against one another.

This year's Junior Varsity had an uncommonly good season, winning seven of their nine meets. The reserve squad was composed of talented freshmen and upper-classmen running both varsity and reserve.

Junior varsity track, under the direction of coaches Mr. Billy Wood, Mr. Richard McLeish, and Mr. Robert Mitchell, ran simultaneously with the varsity track team. Producing varsity potential, the reserve track team shoved excellent strength in the high and low hurdles and the sprints. Next year's varsity squad will be stronger by the addition of these runners.

In a tri-meet held at Howe, juniors Larry Whitmore and Garry Hodge endeavor to hold their lead over their opponents and score first and second place for Howe.

For the first time in Hornet history, Howe reached the semi-state round at the State Varsity Baseball Tournament. Although considered to be one of the top contenders for the state crown, the Hornets were eliminated in the final game of the semi-state play by Bloomington, 1—0.

This year's Hornets far surpassed the hopes of the first year varsity coach, Mr. Richard Patterson. Team work was the key to the overall season record of 14 wins and 9 losses for the team.

Captain of the varsity team, Gary Marshall, was voted the most valuable player by his teammates. Most Improved and Best Mental Attitude awards were given to Dave Smith and Ray Leach, respectively. Don Britton and Ron Clark were given the Outstanding Team Players award.

Lettermen for the 1970 team are: Mark Miller, second baseman; Ray Leach, centerfield; Gary Evans, first baseman; Bill Smoot, catcher; Bill Fleener, third baseman; and Lenny Thornburg, first baseman.

Howe's Freshman baseball team was plagued by another losing season. Coach Richard Hughes experienced many hardships in his first year of coaching the freshman. The frosh had an overall record of 2 wins and 8 losses.

From this team, there were many good players. One of these was Louie Saba. According to the records, he had a season batting average of .440. Louie also was recorded at stealing the most bases. He stole nine bases in ten games. Another of the talented players was Rusty Hollenbaugh. Rusty carried the full pitching load throughout the season.

This Year's freshman team picked up more teams other than the ones played by the frosh of the previous season. Among these were; Eastwood, Marshall, Perry Central, and Belzer Junior High.

Coach Ron Finkbinder's raquetmen for Howe's 1968 Spring Tennis Team skillfully executed smashing drives to compile another winning season. The record for the completed season was a total of 14 wins and only one loss. Mr. Finkbinder's first year as coach was a very successful year filled with victories.

Tennis, like art, takes a great amount of talent combined with experience. Overcoming the lack of experience, this year's team displayed an abundance of talent. Complete team effort was a potential factor in the accomplishments of the entire team.

Absence of seniors Phil Coffin, Tim Smith, Abe Cardwell, and George Cooper will hinder next year's squad. The only returning letterman to help the squad will be Paul Thomas.

Sophomore Paul Thomas displays the form used when he won the Sectional Championship. This sequence of serve and return depicts his skill on the courts.

Spring Shows 14—1 Record

Howe's 1969 Fall Tennis games took second place only to the action of football games. First year coach, Ron Finkbinder, directed the Hornets to a very successful and rewarding season.

In fall tennis action the team captured their second consecutive Sectional title, defeating Southport, 25—23. Leading the team, was Paul Thomas who won his first three matches, and lost only to the defending State Champ. Paul is the number one man in Hornet action. Tim Smith, number two singles, won one match in Sectional play. George Cooper and Abe Cardwell, number one doubles, lost in the finals to the Southport doubles team. Also Phil Coffin and Rex Barrett, number two doubles, lost in the Semi-Finals to Southport's team. All members failed to qualify for a position in the Semi-State competition.

Only one letterman will return to help out the 1970 team. Paul Thomas will again be Howe's number one man. Others returning are Jeff Flowers and Charles Scott.

Senior Rex Barrett returns a serve in an attempt to win a singles match.

Smith, Coach Ron Finkbinder, George Cooper, and Elbert Cardwell.

Bundled to keep warm, Phil Coffin works hard to improve his serve.

Freshman Charles Scott practices to improve his return in hopes of a victory.

Linksmen

A chip is a difficult shot requiring precision and excellent form. Here Greg Graham chips out of the rough to the green on hole number 9 to set himself up for an easy birdie.

Sophomore Chris Brandt drives toward the green from the tee-off on hole number 10.

Coach Don Evans' last year with Howe's golf team was a successful one. The team finished the season with ten wins and six losses. The squad also placed third in the city meet. Most of the team's power was centered in Dave Martin, who held the lowest average of 39.8, and Bruce Bottom, who had the most points with 19. Dave also placed fourth as an individual medalist in the city meet with an 18-hole total of 76. Neither Bruce or Dave were seniors last year so they will both be back this year to continue the team's winning streak and their own personal success. Another victorious season can be looked forward to for next year.

Randy Personett skillfully putts into the cup of hole number 9 for his par four while Gary Barnard holds the pin and Bruce Miller waits to take his shot.

Keep Hornet Tradition of Athletic Quality

Junior Dave Martin uses 7-iron to land his ball on the green of hole number 7.

Bruce Miller shifts his weight from one leg to the other to get more distance out of his drive. Bruce attains good length in his drives through proper form.

Randy Personett, Jeff Moore, Chris Brandt, and Gary Barnard.

VARSITY GOLF 1969

	Ave.	Won-Lost
Dave Martin	39.8	6-7
Bruce Bottom	40.5	10-3
Greg Graham	40.8	9-5
Bruce Miller	41.1	8-4-1
Randy Personett	41.8	8-1-1
Gary Barnard	43.1	7-4
Dan Richardson	45.6	2-3
Jeff Moore	44.0	0-0-1

Intramurals Attract Number of Participants

In a pre-game practice, senior Randy Personett tries out a one-handed jumper over the head of a mock opponent while other team members await their turn.

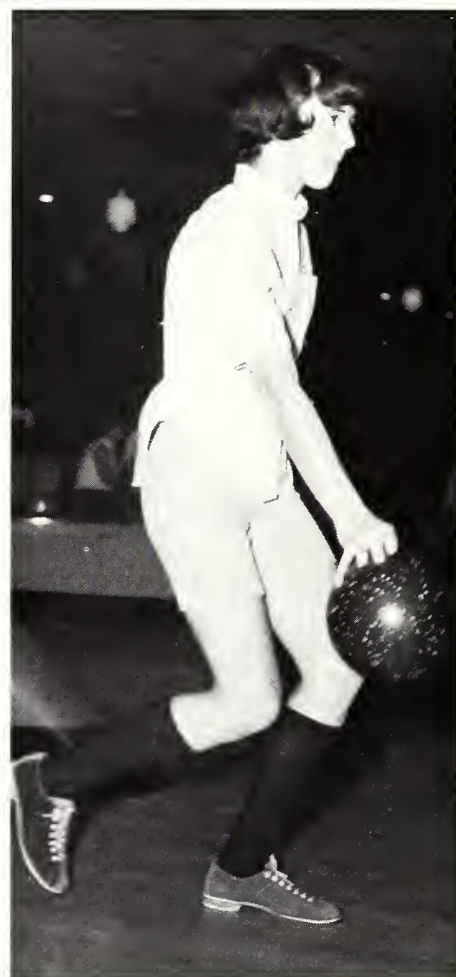

Jeff Beeler has just successfully faked an adversary and has a chance for an easy, open shot. The other players are poised for the rebound in case Jeff misses.

Intramural basketball was supervised by Mr. Cross, Mr. Cunningham, and Mr. Harpold. The teams were divided into two leagues: freshmen-sophomore and junior-senior. The eighteen freshmen-sophomore teams played on Mondays and Tuesdays. The thirteen junior-senior teams played on Thursdays. The most outstanding freshmen-sophomore teams were the Knicks, Pacers, and Royals. Two of the prominent junior-senior teams were Jersey's Jays and the Giants.

Mr. Patterson was in charge of the intramural bowling. The teams were placed in two leagues: boys and girls. Their bowling matches were on Mondays from November Through February. This year there were 125 students on the intramural bowling team which is more than any other sport at Howe.

Reserve football coach Dave Stewart contemplates the outcome of a previous play.

Managers, Coaches Back Winning Teams

Behind every successful team there are unsung heros. At Howe, these are the athletic managers. Cleaning equipment, recording statistics and doing other tedious jobs are just a few of the things that keep the managers constantly busy. The managers are directed by Mr. E. Dale Dinkens.

Another team behind Howe's successful athletes are the men that make up the coaching staff. New to the staff this year were football coaches Mr. James Arvin, Mr. Roger Cross, Mr. Richard Harpold. Mr. Dave Miller will be the new freshmen baseball coach and Mr. Richard McLeish, golf coach.

Mr. Mark Sutton, varsity wrestling coach, provides sideline coaching for his team.

Although no new classes were scheduled this year, students became involved in the varied courses offered to Howe pupils. Each department held monthly meetings to discuss new ideas and problems, while advanced classes helped the student to further his knowledge in a subject of his interest.

Teachers and students participating in summer workshops gained new ideas and insight into current problems.

Mr. Frank Tout
Vice-Principal

Mrs. Patricia
Alexander
Dean of Girls

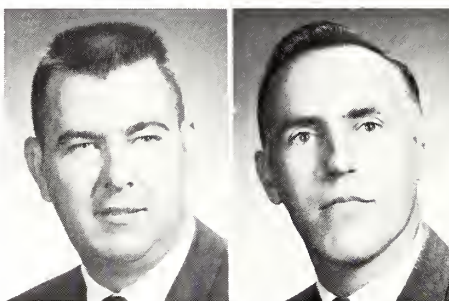

Providing Howe students with valuable assistance were Mr. Thomas Stirling, principal, Mr. Charles Ruschhaupt, and Mr. Frank Tout, Vice-Principals. Financing the school's expenditures and helping students with their schedules were the jobs of the two Vice-Principals, respectively.

This year Mrs. Patricia Alexander, former yearbook and newspaper sponsor, became the Dean of Girls. She had also worked as a counselor and assisted Mrs. Mildred Loew, who retired as Dean of Girls. Mrs. Margaret Benson assisted her. Mr. Robert Carnal continued his excellent supervision of students with the help of Mr. Raymond Riley.

Howe's success relies on the outstanding ability of the administration. Students generally do not appreciate the time and effort these administrators devote to our community.

Mrs. Patricia Alexander, dean of girls, prepares to call an absent student.

Counselors Guide Students Toward Future

Junior counselor Mr. Hessong explains the results of a college entrance examination.

Under the direction of the Guidance Department, students became familiar to courses offered at Howe and began preparing for their future education and jobs.

Mrs. Maryon Welch, junior high counselor, helped eighth graders with their first schedule, while Mr. John Trinkle assisted the freshmen. Adminstrating to the needs of sophomores was Mr. Rex Anderson. Junior counselor, Mr. Robert Hessong advised students on their college entrance examinations. Mr. Thomas Totten acted as Director of Guidance, devoting much of his time in helping seniors decide on colleges or jobs.

New this year was Mrs. Portia Kelley, the school's social worker. Students were able to see her with problems or advice.

At the end of the day, Mrs. Poole is seen from the dark corridors completing her calls at the switchboard.

With the help from the ten secretaries, Howe is able to run a very smooth school. They are here early in the morning to see that everything begins well and remain to help teachers after school is out.

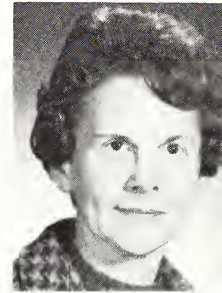

Mrs. Virginia Hall and Mrs. Dorothy Heniser keep the attendance in order each day in the pupil personnel office. Mr. Stirling and Mr. Ruschhaupt are fortunate in having Mrs. Margaret Poole and Mrs. Evelyn Miller for their secretaries. Helping in the bookstore, library, and English office are the jobs of Mrs. Vera Schmitz, Mrs. Frances Barnett, and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson who is also the switchboard operator. Mrs. Alberta Follis is the clerk for the evening school, while Mrs. Mary Schweir works in the senior office.

As students and teachers begin their schedule at 8:15, so does the cafeteria staff by planning and preparing the meals. With their quick efficient work, they are able to serve over 2500 students and 120 teachers in the five lunch periods. Many of these women are mothers of students who now attend Howe or have attended in the past.

Keeping the school in a neat order is the job of the custodians. Not only do they sweep the floors, but keep the building heated and lighted. They are always on hand to help set up and clean at athletic events. At night and during vacations, they keep watch and maintain the school. The grounds are kept up all year round as they adapt their work to fit the needs of each season.

Miss Ellen O'Drain      Mrs. Harriette Baker

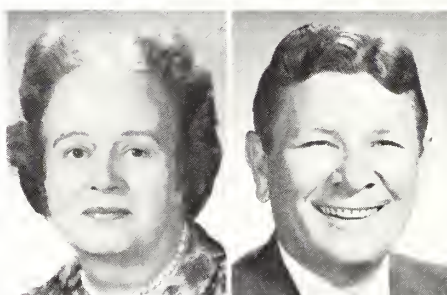

Miss Paula Barbour      Mr. Bruce Beck

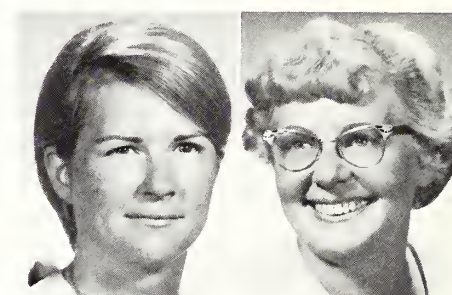

Mr. Richard Beck      Miss Sandra Brady

Under the direction of Miss Ellen O'Drain, the English Department serves students throughout their years at Howe. New this year was the scheduling of English 1, 3, 5, and 7 in the fall semester and English 2, 4, 6, and 8 in the spring. English 9 and 10, for advanced composition and world literature, were also offered as before. Teachers held composition conferences with students to review past achievements and advise them on their future work.

Students were given the opportunities to express their feelings and opinions through speech, debate, and dramatics. In etymology, their minds are opened to sources of words and their ability to communicate was broadened. Those who enjoy books or want to become librarians found library experience a great challenge.

Miss Bays, a student teacher, describes a worm to Betty Hunter and Greg Goodwin.

Increase Scope of Science Department

Mrs. Evelyn
Keaton

Mr. William
McGrogan

Howe's science department, under the direction of William Smith, offers a wide variety of courses for each individual student. Many freshmen choose physical science, while biology is required of all sophomores. College bound juniors and seniors take either chemistry, physics, or both. Advanced biology and chemistry are also offered to those who have had physics and are interested in furthering their knowledge of science.

During the first semester students and teachers traveled by bus to Chicago to visit the Museum of Natural History. The annual Science Fair, open to grade school and Howe students taking science was held again this year in February. The exhibits displayed the ingenuity of the students' science talents and interests.

Well-Informed Social Studies Students

Mr. Hartwell Kayler

Mr. William Bolander

Howe students widened their understanding of American and world problems through U.S. History, which is a required course, world history, and the enthusiastic teaching staff. Government and economics, usually taken in the senior year, are also required. Those wishing for a history major may elect social problems, psychology, international relations, Indiana history, or Latin American civilization.

Each year senior Howeites wishing to further their knowledge of history and who are planning to attend college may write a Lilly paper. It must deal with some point of history. Two winners are chosen who receive either $500 or $1000 scholarships to the college of their choice.

Mr. Rehm lectures to his class on an over-head projector, one of many visual aids.

Grading tests and homework is one of the necessary jobs performed by Mr. Richardson.

Mathematics Curriculum for Howe Students

With a new director, Mr. Glenn Rohde, Howe's Math Department strives to introduce, develop, and polish basic principles of mathematics. These principles are used throughout the students' lives.

According to achievement tests given in elementary school and their diploma program, freshmen are placed in Algebra, Basic Math, or General Math. In their sophomore years, they advance to Geometry. Those wishing to further their knowledge elect Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry, College Algebra, and Calculus. Students who pass Calculus with at least a B average earn advanced college placement.

New this year are Mr. Roger Cross, Miss Pauline Craig, Mr. Jack Kemper, and Miss Nancy McMillan.

Discussing a test grade in General Math with two freshmen is Mrs. Mary Smuck. This course is designed to prepare students for the basics of Algebra.

Mr. Roger Cross waits patiently as his Algebra class finishes a test.

Listening attentively to the solution of a math problem is Miss Nancy McMillan.

Students Given Chance to Study Abroad

Mrs. Penn, French teacher, goes over the day's lesson with her student teacher.

Howe's Foreign Language Department offers French, Latin, and Spanish for all students in an academic diploma program. At least two years is required.

Miss Mary Thumma heads the foreign language teaching staff of six other instructors.

For excellent foreign language students, the department offers advanced courses in the three languages. A foreign study program, sponsored by Indiana University, is also attainable.

Extra-curricular clubs are created for scholars who wish to continue their studies beyond the classroom level, and honor societies are established for above-average language students.

Mr. Raymond Hulce instructs beginning students as to how to tell time in Spanish.

Mr. Timotheus Carson tells one of his French pupils about life in Paris, stressing "La Grandeur De La France."

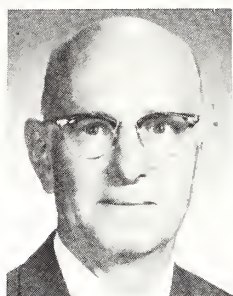

Mrs. Vesta Cohee, Howe Latin teacher, explains her grading system to the class.

Industrial arts classes at Howe cover a wide range of training in various job skills. Mechanical drawing, metal shop, printing, and wood shop are offered to the young man planning a career in a manual skill. Several girls enroll in mechanical drawing courses, which utilize geometric figures in building designs and house plans used in construction work.

Mr. Lyle O. Nave is the Industrial Arts Department head; he also teaches printing classes.

Grades are obtained in a rather different manner than in other departments. In addition to tests and quizzes over subject matter, students receive grades for projects that they work on during the six weeks period. This enables the industrial arts student to progress at his own rate.

Manual Training Is Acquired by Students

Wood carving, as shown here, gives a student a chance to be creative.

In printing class, these boys are being given an opportunity to learn the intricate steps leading to a good finished product.

ROTC Builds Character and Self-Esteem

M/Sgt. H. M. Eckman SFC Bascom Perdue

R.O.T.C. is open to all Howe boys. Its primary purpose is to build character, to teach discipline, and to train for future military careers.

M/Sgt. Harold Eckman and SFC Bascom Perdue are the officers in charge. William Holman is the student leader.

R.O.T.C. sponsors are chosen to add charm to ceremonies and to quiz cadets on fundamentals.

An R.O.T.C. drill team is selected to perform from boys who are superior riflemen and from those who march well.

Each spring R.O.T.C. units are displayed to Howe students and the Irvington community at Federal Inspection. Awards are presented, visiting officers observe the proceedings, and the "knock out drill" is presented.

Captain David Hall, a member of the R.O.T.C. cadet staff, practices standing at attention during an inspection session.

Athletic Ability Grows with Gym Training

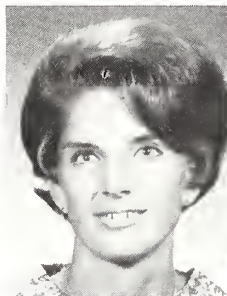

Mr. James Stutz

Mr. James Arvin

Miss Janice Brown

Mrs. Deanna Carroll

Mr. Samuel T. Kelley

Physical education at Howe is mandatory to all freshmen; however, upperclassmen may elect it if they wish to further their training.

Mr. James Stutz heads the Physical Education Department; he also serves as varsity basketball coach during the year.

In freshmen classes, students are taught basic fundamentals, with subject matter concerned primarily with building co-ordination and forming skills that can be later used in more advanced gym activities, in school and out.

Girls' gym classes give an opportunity for the student to actively participate in sports and dances that she might otherwise miss. Boys' classes stress mainly upon sports and skills formulated to build strength, agility, and muscular co-ordination.

Girls in this gym class build co-ordination with practice in various dance steps.

These boys practice dribbling a basketball in gym class to gain skill for participation in future sports.

Sports play an important part in advanced physical education classes; the girls pictured here play a competitive game of volleyball.

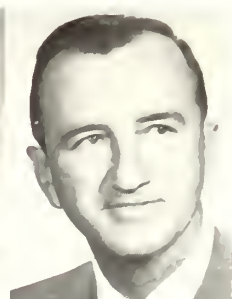

Mr. James Stutz, Howe physical education and driver education instructor, explains various parts of the automobile to three of his students.

Health, Driver Ed Help Howe; Nurse Aids

Mrs. Norma Rauch, Howe's new school nurse, checks senior Bethany Berger's throat to see if it is infected. Importance of health is stressed.

Three important areas of education at Howe are the health classes, the driver education classes, and the activities and services of the school nurse. Mrs. Norma Rauch is new this year to the school nurse position.

Mr. Billy Wood teaches driver education here, and he is joined by several physical education instructors.

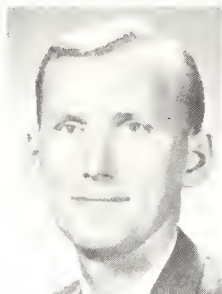

Mr. Richard Harpold teaches health classes at Howe. Guest speakers frequently visit the classes to aid in training.

Driver education provides a means of instruction in the classroom and in the car prior to receiving a license.

Mr. John Skene

Mrs. Luise Smith

Howe's Business Department, headed by Mr. George Jackson, provides an opportunity for students to learn how to work in the often-complicated business world. Instruction, practice, and perfecting technique are the principal goals.

Consisting of twelve instructors, the Business Department has one of the largest faculty memberships. Three new teachers came into the Business Department this year.

General skills, such as typing and shorthand, are offered as well as the more advanced skills in bookkeeping, machine calculation, and data processing.

Machine Calculation prepares a young stenographer for a future career in business by practice and by working problems.

Art of Cooking and Sewing Is Perfected

Sharon Pruitt, sophomore, discovers another use for the versatile blender.

Micki Waterman uses a pattern in the making of a fashion creation.

Home economics is an important course for the student planning a career as a dietician, a home ec teacher, or a housewife.

Mrs. Doris Cartwright is head of the Home Economics Department, which consists of five teachers. Foods and Clothing are two of the courses offered to pupils.

Home ec classes teach not only the fundamentals of cooking and sewing, but they also instruct as to digestion and good health habits, beauty tips, and guides to fashion coordination. Each spring girls enrolled in Foods get a chance to try out their recipes on the faculty at an annual luncheon.

Home nursing and home management are also available to the domestically minded scholar, in addition to cooking and sewing.

Creative Talent Is Developed Through Art

Mr. F. M. Howard

Mr. William
Cunningham

Mr. James Lynch

Mr. Charles Pirtle

Mr. F. M. Howard serves as leader of Howe's Art Department. His instructional staff includes three other teachers.

Craft arts is primarily organized for the beginning art student or those just interested in the simple aspects of art. Several intermediate courses are offered for students interested in furthering their art objectives beyond the beginning projects.

Ceramics is one of several specialized courses to be elected. Advanced art courses are available for the student considering an art career or for students with more than just a "passing interest" in form, line and color.

Students' works in clay and pottery are displayed in the art display case.

The Irvington community provides serenity for this Howe boy's artwork.

Senior Carilyn Oliver, a student enrolled in an advanced art class, works on a landscape, utilizing form, line, and color in her work.

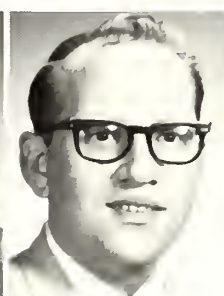

Mrs. McNeill performs two major functions for the Music Department when she takes care of music records and accompanies classes.

Mr. Frank S.

Mr. Robert Beckley

Mr. Robert
Bramblett

Practice, Pride Develop Good Musicians

Howe's Music Department is supervised by Mr. Frank Watkins. Assisting him in teaching duties are four other instructors and several accompanists. Mrs. Janet McNeill serves as accompanist for several chorus classes.

In addition to the Concert Choir, the Music Department consists of the Band, the Orchestra, the Boys' and Girls' Ensembles, the Madrigals, the Choralaires, and the chorus classes.

Mr. Watkins directs the Concert Choir, the Choralaires, and the Girls' Ensemble. Mr. Robert Beckley is the new orchestra director. Mr. Thomas Lewis directs chorus classes and the Boys' Ensemble, while Mr. Louis McEnderfer is in charge of the Band. Mr. Robert Bramblett directs chorus classes and the Madrigals.

This year the Concert Choir performed "Camelot" for the Irvington community, with the help of Mr. Bruce Beck, producer, and other teachers and students.

Howe Students' Outstanding Achievements

Janet Dunn and Kathy Garrett, academic leaders of the senior class, admire some of the awards in the trophy case.

The Altrusa Award for the outstanding junior girl was presented to Kathy Garrett.

Each spring Howe holds an Honors Day program to recognize outstanding students.

Each department honors seniors with a high grade average completing a major in that department. The Kiwanis Club award for exceptional achievement in subject area is presented to one student selected by each department.

Awards for citizenship, the American Legion Good Citizenship Award, the Altrusa Award and the DAR Award, are also presented at the Honors Day program.

Each year two junior boys and two junior girls are chosen by the American Legion to attend Boy's and Girl's State the next summer. Also in the spring is the National Honor Society Tap Day when students who have achieved academically are honored.

Senior Carol Higginbotham won the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award.

After participating in three rounds of competition, seniors Margaret Neal and Terri Cross were selected to participate in the I.U. Honors program in Mexico.

Honored at Spring Ceremony

Seniors David Hashman, Philip Coffin and Carol Higginbotham received Letters of Commendation for their achievement on the National Merit Test last spring.

Seniors Patti Dulin and Thomas Marendt won the American Legion Good Citizenship Award in the spring.

Beverly Walker was chosen by the Senior class to receive the DAR Award this fall.

Carol Higginbotham, Donna Reifeis, Richard Wood and John Easterday were chosen to represent Howe at Hoosier Girl's and Boy's State last summer.

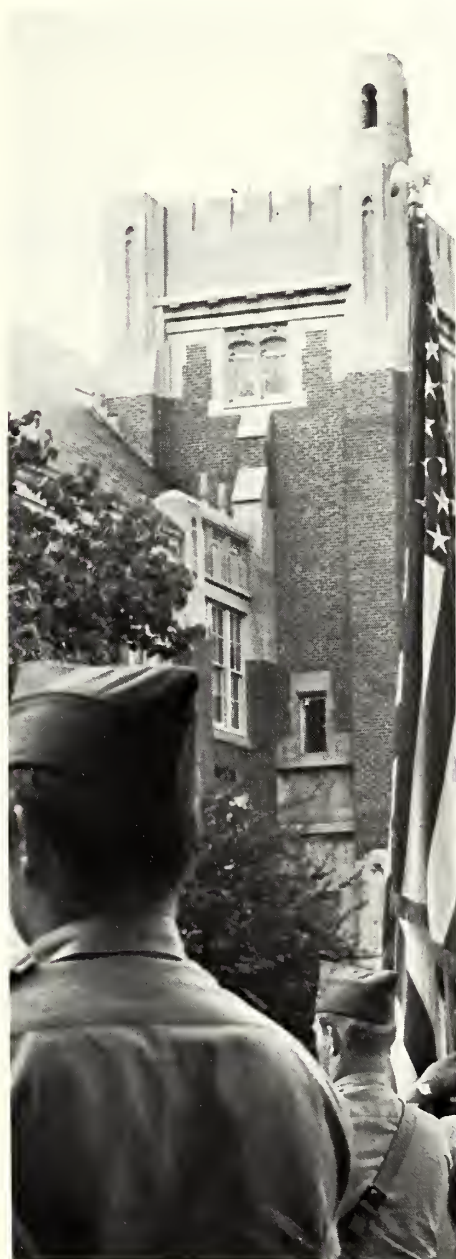

Every student's three years as an underclassman give him various memories of his years at Howe. By becoming involved in activities suited to his age and class, he can make friends in his own interests. Freshmen have problems finding their lockers and their way around. Sophomores, more accustomed to Howe's traditions, become more involved in teams, clubs, and honorary activities. Juniors prepare for college and enjoy their last year as underclassmen.

Classes Give Fond Memories

Freshmen Learn Traditions of Howe

Freshmen Becky Kennett and Frank Mackle assemble their books for the day.

As the freshmen first entered Howe, they possessed a feeling of uncertainty and a fear of high school. Nevertheless, they soon attained the assurance that they were part of the student body. With this confidence, frosh became involved in various school activities. New clubs, athletic teams, and academic opportunities awaited the eager newcomers who were sure to find something of interest to fit in their new life.

This class, second in size to last year's is comprised of 353 girls and 307 boys. Many other problems also developed for the class of 1973. Locker combinations were confused and often completely forgotten, and there were many misplaced classrooms. Assisting the distraught freshmen at the first of the year were members of the Student Council.

Freshman girls practice modern dance in gym class. Physical education is a course required by state law, but most freshmen enjoy it because of the opportunity to meet classmates.

One of the first things a freshman learns is to stand in line, at the bookstore, in lunch line, and in gym class.

Sophs Demonstrate Loyalty

Progressing to the second year of high school, members of the class of '72 discovered that they were faced with new responsibilities and challenges.

Sophomores could enjoy many activities open to them that were not available during their freshmen year. Outgoing pupils were chosen for the Quiz Team and the Hornet Honeys, others were active in musical and literary groups.

Sophomores discovered a way to observe living organisms by dissecting worms and frogs. Varying their mathematical skills, sophomores enrolled in geometry classes as college preparation.

In order to come to a general agreement on the design of class rings, student council representatives chose rings for the class. The rings arrived before Christmas, bringing joy to the sophomores.

Carol Mount demonstrates the principles of a right triangle to her Geometry class.

Members of the Geometry "G" class study perpendicular lines in space. This involves the proof of many complicated theorems and exercises.

Tracy Ellis sets up a "pick" for Craig Reinhardt in the Howe-Ripple game.

A senior's basic job is to make sure he is properly prepared for the world he will enter after graduation. Teachers and counselors help in this preparation, but the main responsibility lies with the senior. By becoming involved in high school activities and expanding his outlook on life, he can become a better adult. His year is concerned with college applications, job opportunities, and school activities. But everyone looks forward to commencement.

The final year of high school for the class of 1970, passed quickly. The Senior Class began the year by electing their class officers. Steve Johns was elected by his classmates to lead the class as President. To assist Steve in his duties, Martha Graves was elected First Vice-President. Six other officers were elected to lead the Senior Class. Each of the officers worked in the Senior Office, one period each day.

Along with the officers, each homeroom selected a representative for the Constitution and Colors Committees. These committees revised the Senior Constitution slightly and dark blue, light blue, olive green, and yellow were selected as the Senior colors.

Talented Cast Stages Annual Senior Play

SENIOR PLAY CAST MEMBERS: Vicki Leinger, Roger Bailey, Denise Hayes, Steve Cala, Norman McClain, John Parker, Margaret Neal, Chris Henshaw, Margaret Martin, Dave Hashman, Diana Maudlin, Gary Rash, Steve Zylstra, Richard Wood, Byron

Spice. Each cast member put in many hours of hard work after school to produce a successful and entertaining class play.

Mortimer exclaims to his dear Aunt Martha and Aunt Abby, "Don't do anything. I mean don't do anything. Don't let anyone in this house—and leave Mr. Hoskins right where he is."

"Arsenic and Old Lace," a drama-comedy, was presented to the public by the senior class. It is a story of two spinster aunts who take it upon themselves to free lonely men from their loneliness by poisoning them. Humor was added by their eccentric brother who thought he was Teddy Roosevelt. Their nephew, the only sound-minded one, fell in love with the girl next door.

Any senior was eligible to be in the play but first had to try out. The final cast was picked through a process of elimination. Behind the scenes, Miss Rhoda Kittleson and Mr. Bruce Beck directed and produced the play with help of student directors, Laura Reasoner and Helen Hudson.

Now in its fourth year at Howe, the Evening School division gives working adults the opportunity to finish graduation requirements. The 1969 class was the largest with a total enrollment of 981. Forty-three adults graduated this May.

Howe Night School offers a variety of courses besides those which are required. Upholstering, income tax workshop, cake decorating, knitting, interior decorating, flower arranging, and oil painting are a few of the non-vocational subjects which are taught.

Mr. David Baugh, head of the Evening School division, checks on pupil attendance while his secretary, Mrs. Alberta Follis, processes fee payments for classes. Both work hard in the organizing of special community interest classes.

Hard-Working Staffers Give Yearbook Service to Howe

With the finish of the year, and the close of another yearbook, there are many people I would like to thank for all their invaluable help in the production of this Hilltopper: Mr. Kuonen, our advisor, who figures out everything mathematically and generally comes out better than the rest of the staff; Mr. William Wright, from the American Yearbook Company; and, Mr. James Sheilds, from Tower Studios, who trains and advises the photographers and provides the majority of our pictures. But a yearbook cannot come off without a hard-working staff, and I think I had the hardest-working staff of all time. Thank you.

Involvement . . .

Full Year Gives Memories

Becoming involved in high school activities sets the pace for future involvement in life. A four-year period is a short time in which to become prepared for adult life, but with experienced teachers and administrators, the student can find himself, and his place in the world. The student who does not enjoy something from school, whether it be a job, school activity, or an unrelated hobby, is missing out on one of the finer things in life: involvement. Only by helping other people can one help himself, and the student helps others as he becomes involved in various activities. This process of being involved helps the student to mature and grow into a well-adjusted adult. The success of the student depends on his involvement in areas in and outside his present interests.
